Wiki Pshittt

Where we learned that diplomats spy and the sun will rise tomorrow morning...

Arabs fear Iran, Washington diplomats spy on their colleagues, Israel want the USA to maintain a stronger stance towards the same Iran, Sarkozy is authoritarian, Merkel lacks imagination, French diplomacy finds Chavez crazy and Ahmadinejad fascist...

Hey man, what's new? Who needed WikiLeaks to know, or at least suspect these facts?

Not a word on who killed Kennedy,

Led by Warren Buffett, a group of 45 American billionaires are asking to pay more taxes! Yes, more. Not less! They are claiming, or what happened before the BigBang, or the subject of the next ten Harry Potter movies! WikiLeaks started as an informative source, it has now become a mere gossip machine. Dear Julian Assange, we are disappointed!

We are in the buzz era, we find that the buzz is just that: a buzz.

Nothing on Economy, where will the Dow end in 2010, or where Mrs. Bettancourt's money will end up!

and rightly so, that too many tax breaks granted under the Bush Administration are contributing to the non recovery of the USA.

The big story of the month is the return of the crisis with Ireland at the forefront. It's also been one year since the Dubai crisis... WikiLeaks bring us some distraction while both Koreas are at each other's throat. Markets moved south in November, the Dollar on the contrary moved sharply up. Price of real estate in Paris at all-time high at €9,000 per square meter Not bad.

Aung San Suu Kyi Free

Finally free. But how long before she is sent back in again?

Mrs. Aung San Suu Kyi has spent a total of 15 out of the 20 last years under house arrest. Why? Basically because she wants democracy in a country ruled by military dictatorship. Will she come back to the political arena? Probably. Will she stay free? Probably not.

Crisis? What Crisis?

GM (GM) raises $23.1 Billion

Not bad for crippled car manufacturer that was left dead along the road only a few months back. It's only the world's largest IPO ever. Well done!

Amazon (AMZN) at all-time high

The Internet retailer reached its all time week with a $135.91 quote. Not so bad for a dot-com company during a crisis era. Of course Christmas sales are going well and pulling the company to the sky.
